Presentation of the speakers at the annual meeting in Berlin

This year's fall meeting of the ISPPM aims to initiate a collaboration with Children's rights activists and parents initiatives. This time, most speakers do not come from the well-known ISPPM circle. That's why we introduce them to you before the meeting in this newsletter.

Lecture Topic:

Children's rights from the beginning - The United Nations Children's Rights Convention

The United Nations have created a comprehensive agreement on the protection, promotion and participation of children by issuing the Convention on the Rights of the Child of 20.11.1989. But right from the beginning, fundamental questions have been raised about the legal implications of the Convention in Germany. In particular it was criticized, that the Convention vouch innate human rights, therefore applies from birth, but not for the period before birth.

Although the convention - after the withdrawal of the federal governments initially stated reservations- applies today fully, the recognition of individual rights and the application before birth have remained in dispute. A clarifying contribution on the Day of General Discussion 2004 of the UN Committee on the Rights of the Child will be the basis of this lecture to explain the present legal status and to assess legal questions concerning the phase before, during and after birth. Mainly (obstetric) routine procedures done without express approval on behalf of the child need careful consideration.
